where energy meets the future

PRESS RELEASE

Amsterdam, 31 January 2008

New members join ENDEX

This week ENDEX welcomed two new trading members: the London based J.P. Morgan Securities Limited and Mercuria Energy Trading SA from Geneva, Switzerland. J.P. Morgan Securities Limited will be active in the Dutch power and TTF gas futures market. Mercuria Energy Trading SA will start trading TTF gas futures on the ENDEX Exchange and participate in the pricing panel for TTF gas. Mercuria will extend their membership with power trading shortly. Both members will also use the ENDEX OTC clearing service to register OTC trades for clearing.

Including J.P. Morgan and Mercuria, ENDEX now counts 45 trading members of which 29 TTF gas members.

About ENDEX

ENDEX is a recognised energy (securities) exchange and based in Amsterdam. It has been founded and funded by European energy market participants and financial parties. ENDEX offers Dutch and Belgian power futures and Dutch TTF gas futures on its Futures Exchange and also offers OTC clearing services for the power and gas markets. The ENDEX Futures Exchange is supported by liquidity providers. ENDEX creates market transparency and enables market participants to manage price and settlement risk.
